UNIVERSITÀ
DI PARMA

WELCOME DAY: EXPLORING GLOBAL HORIZONS!

OCTOBER 14, 2025

ERASMUS+ AND BEYOND

MASTER OF SCIENCE IBD

© Andrea CILLONI – 2025 October
All rights reserved

UNIVERSITÀ
DI PARMA

AGENDA

1 ADMISSIBLE ACTIVITIES

2 TYPES OF MOBILITY

3 LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

4 PROFESSORS, STAFF AND TUTORS

ERASMUS+, ADMISSIBLE ACTIVITIES

ADMISSIBLE ACTIVITIES

- Study: attending courses (teachings) and taking the relevant examinations (exams).
- Thesis preparation.
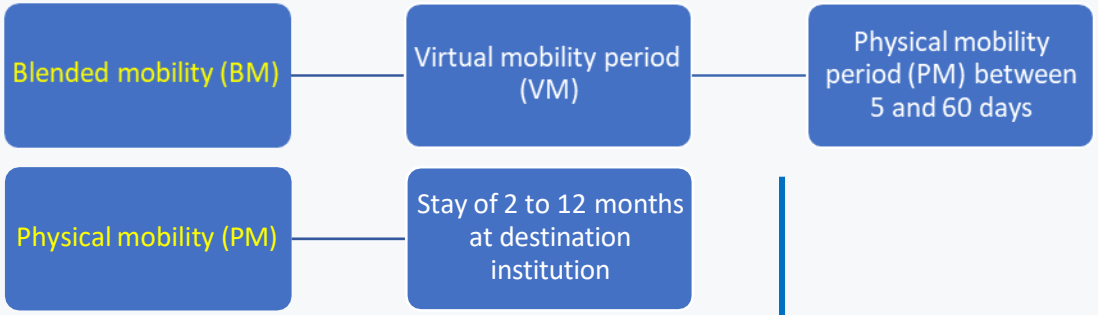
- Study and curricular traineeship (where provided for by the curriculum of the University of Parma degree course). Access is allowed only after agreeing with the host institution. It is not possible to carry out exclusively internship activities.

ERASMUS+, TYPES OF MOBILITY



PM mobility is carried out entirely in person at the destination institution. Physical mobility (PM) is defined as any educational activity conducted remotely, provided that the student is physically present in the destination country.

TYPES OF MOBILITY

ERASMUS+, LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

To study abroad, you need to be proficient in the language used in your courses.

Programs like ERASMUS+ and OVERWORLD can enhance your language skills, but are not for beginners.

Each university has specific language requirements, often needing proof from official certifying bodies.
This could be the local language or English if it's the course language.

You must meet these requirements before you go.

ERASMUS+, PROFESSORS STAFF & TUTORS

- Professors: L.A., Learning Agreements.
- Staff: Administrative procedures, such as scholarships and extensions for the period abroad, and so on.
- Tutors: Providing support during the application process.

ROLES AND REFERENCES

THANKS
GRAZIE MILLE!