1. Course introduction

Language Sciences and Cultural Studies for Special Needs is an international second-level degree ('Laurea Magistrale') in Linguistics ('LM39-Linguistica') offered by the Department of Humanities, Social Sciences and Cultural Industries (DUSIC) of the University of Parma. Upon graduation you will be awarded the second-cycle degree certificate ('Laurea Magistrale').

It is a two-year programme in which all the core subjects are taught in English. Most of them are delivered in a blended mode, both on-campus and online.

- Grounding and advanced linguistic and cultural competence in English and a second foreign language (German, French, Russian, or Italian as a Second Language);
- Research skills in the field of Language Sciences and Educational Linguistics;
- Grounding competences in the field of Inclusive Language Education;
- Basic skills in Instructional Design;
- Grounding competencies in the study and practice of accessibility to media and culture (SDH and audio description).

The course devotes specific attention to aspects related to language learning and teaching, with reference to Special Educational Needs affecting communication and language, such as developmental language disorders, learning disorders and sensory disabilities.

UNIVERSITÀ
DI PARMA

In this respect, it aims to form language experts able to operate with learners with special needs, both in educational contexts (school) and in academic research (university), or in a variety of fields related to the language industry, such as publishing houses (both traditional and digital), language testers, language schools, and online language teaching companies.

1.1 What you will study

The degree programme has a duration of two academic years. Its didactic path consists of a set of core subjects, which are related to Language Sciences and English Language and Literature, and a specialization in a second language. Core subjects are compulsory for each student. The specialization in a second language offers you the possibility to choose between two study paths:

- 1) Second Language curriculum.
- 2) Italian as a Second Language curriculum.

As part of your didactic career, you will have to carry out an internship (page 106) in your second year of studies. The internship is compulsory and cannot be substituted with other subjects.

At the end of your two-year programme, you will have to successfully complete a self-learning Research Methodology (page 129) course unit and write a final dissertation (page 130).

In the following table you can have a look at all the course units and learning activities offered by the degree programme:

1.2 How you will study

Some courses make use of a blended teaching method, which integrates face-to-face and distance learning through special e-learning platforms.

Teaching activities are both in sync with traditional lessons and in deferred mode. In this respect, distance teaching offers you an alternative to face-to-face lessons and a way of interacting with peers and teachers outside the lecture hours.

These teaching activities involve:

- Multimedia lessons realized with advanced distance learning tools, with the possibility of interactive work activities to be carried out individually or collectively;
- Interactive communication systems among students and between teachers and students;
- Online reception hours.

To find out more about online resources, go to

E-learning resources (page 84) in the Study Here (page 64) section of this document.

1.2.2 Assessment criteria

You will be assessed by any combination of three assessment methods:

- Coursework such as essays and presentations carried out throughout the course.
- Practical assessments of the skills and competencies acquired throughout the course.
- Written and/or oral examinations at the end of each course.

The exact mix of these methods differs between subject areas, year of study and individual courses. Coursework and practical assessments could be carried out either individually or collectively.

- To find out more about examinations, go to Profit examinations (page 93) in the Study Here sections (page 64) of this document.

2.2 How to enrol

The enrolment procedure is the same for all applicants. However, several preliminary steps may be required depending on your country of origin (see below).

2.2.1 Preliminary steps for EU applicants

If you are an EU citizen outside of Italy, you must take the following preliminary steps before proceeding with the enrolment procedure:

- 1) Translate your degree certificate into Italian
- 2) Obtain the Declaration of Value (“Dichiarazione di Valore”) to officially certify your degree’s compliance

To get the Declaration of Value, you must apply to the Italian diplomatic representations in the country where your qualification has been achieved. The same representation will have to issue you with the Declaration of Value.

Once you are in possession of the Declaration of Value and the Italian translation of your degree certificate, you can enrol in the degree programme, following the same procedure of Italian students.

The following citizens are equated with EU citizens:

- Citizens of Norway, Iceland and Liechtenstein (ECC Regulations Nos. 1408/71, 1612/68 and 574/74, as well as Regulation No. 307/1999 providing for the extension to students of the rules contained in the same Regulations 1408/71 and 574/72);
- Nationals of Switzerland (Bilateral Agreement signed on 06/21/1999 and ratified on 04/17/2022, transposing Regulations 1408/71 and 307/99 aforementioned);
- Citizens of the Republic of San Marino (Treaty of Friendship and Good-Neighbourliness of March 31, 1939, ratified by Law No. 132 of June 6, 1939);
- Refugees and holders of subsidiary protection.
- Personnel serving in Foreign Diplomatic Representations and International Bodies based in Italy – accredited with the Italian State or the Santa Sede – and their dependents, limited to spouses and children;
- Non-EU citizens holding a type of residence permit other than a residence permit for study purposes.

2.2.2 Preliminary steps for non-EU applicants

If you are a non-EU citizen, you must take the following preliminary steps before proceeding with the enrolment procedure:

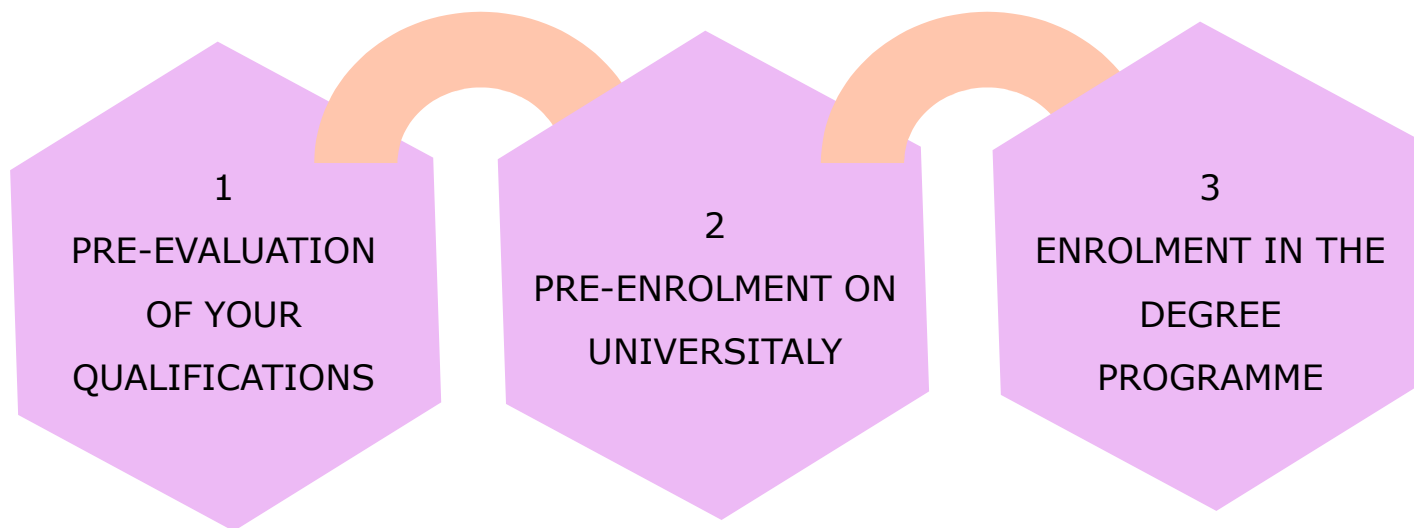

- 1) Pre-evaluation of your previous education and any Italian language certifications
- 2) Pre-enrolment on the University portal to apply for an entry VISA and the final validation of your qualifications

Non-EU citizens holding a type of residence permit other than a residence permit for study purposes are equated with EU citizens and must follow the preliminary steps for EU applicants.

2.2.2.1 Pre-evaluation

Pre-evaluation is compulsory to determine your eligibility for admission into a second-degree programme taught in English, i.e., Language Sciences and Cultural Studies for Special Needs.

The pre-evaluation procedure is as follows:

- 3) Get the Acceptance Letter

A yellow dashed arrow graphic pointing from the bottom left towards the top right, with a solid yellow arrowhead at the top left.

After filling in the pre-evaluation form, the University will carry out a preliminary assessment of your academic qualifications. If you are eligible for admission, you will receive an Acceptance Letter.

It is essential that you keep the Acceptance Letter, as it will be required for the pre-enrolment phase. Failure to do so will compromise the success of your enrolment procedure.

UNIVERSITÀ
DI PARMA

You can look at the deadlines for requesting the pre-evaluation of your academic qualifications at

<https://www.unipr.it/en/studenti-e-studentesse-extra-ue>

2.2.2.2 Pre-enrolment

- Select the University of Parma and the Language Sciences and Cultural Studies for Special Needs degree programme;
- Specify the Italian Embassy or Consulate where you will apply for the entry VISA;
- Upload the Acceptance Letter.

UNIVERSITÀ
DI PARMA

Your pre-enrolment form to be officially approved by the University of Parma, which will automatically forward its reply to you and your selected Italian Embassy or Consulate, which will proceed with the VISA issuing process (see below).

Once the outcome of your University pre-enrolment has been confirmed, you can proceed to the enrolment.

Here you can find detailed information about the pre-enrolment procedure on University.

Remember that the University pre-enrolment procedure does not automatically guarantee your final admission yet!

The University of Parma will automatically notify you and the relevant Italian Embassy or Consulate of the successful validation of your University pre-enrolment.

UNIVERSITÀ

3. Study Here

3.1 How is the programme structured?

You can enrol in the programme as full-time or part-time student. The course units and learning activities are the same for both full-time and part-time programmes. The only difference is the amount of ECTS credits (CFU) that you must obtain each academic year.

3.1.1 Full-time programme

The full-time programme has a duration of two years subdivided into four semesters. Each semester consists of two modules.

If you enrol as a full-time student, you have to obtain approximately 30 ECTS credits (CFU) per semester. This means that you have to obtain 60 ECTS credits (CFU) each academic year.

However, it is possible to make some changes depending on the course outline and your needs.

3.1.2 Part-time programme

The part-time programme has a duration of four years, and it halves the number of ECTS credits (CFU) to be obtained each academic year.

If you enrol as a part-time student, you have to obtain 30 ECTS credits (CFU) each academic year. To find out more about the part-time programme, you can visit

Part-time students | Università degli studi di Parma \(unipr.it\).

3.1.3 Double degree and international programmes

If you are a student enrolled in a double degree programme or other international programmes, such as Erasmus+ or Erasmus Overworld, you could substitute a part of the course units with others offered by the partner university abroad. You could also add additional course units to your Programme of Study.

3.2 Whats is the programme of study?

The Programme of Study is a set of compulsory and optative course units (page 79) that you must take to graduate. Its compilation occurs each academic year and it is compulsory for every student enrolled at the University of Parma.

It may differ depending on your academic year of enrolment and the study path ('curriculum'). You have the possibility to choose between two different study paths:

- Second language curriculum
- Italian as a Second Language curriculum

3.5.2.1 Organisations and companies without an agreement with the university

To carry out an internship in an organisation and/or company which is not affiliated with the University of Parma, it is compulsory to sign up an agreement ('convenzione') between the university and the host structure.

The host structure must follow the 4-step procedure below:

1. Register with the University of Parma through the Esse3 system.
2. Apply for a new agreement ('convenzione') with the University of Parma.
3. Enter an internship offer into the Esse3 system or activate an internship for a single student.
4. Fill in the training project ('progetto formativo').

Here you can find detailed information about the 4-step procedure for the host structure.

The host structure can renew its agreement ('convenzione') with the University of Parma for another three years by filling in an official renewal request via PEC at protocollo@pec.unipr.it at least three months before its expiry.

You can find further information and useful documents the host structure has to fill in at

Procedura di attivazione di tirocini curriculari per aziende | Università

3.5.3 Which is the procedure to activate my internship?

The procedure to activate and complete the internship is entirely online through the Esse3 system.

The procedure involves three parties:

- Student
- Company tutor representing the host structure
- Academic tutor representing the University of Parma

The company tutor uploads the training project ('progetto formativo') on the Esse3 system. The training project gives information about the learning objectives, knowledge, skills and abilities that the student will gain during their internship.

You will receive a notification which allows you to approve the project and select the academic tutor ('tutor accademico') of your degree programme from the list of academic tutors available at

Tirocini curriculari | Università degli studi di Parma (unipr.it).

At this point the Esse3 system will automatically notify the academic tutor, who will be able to approve or reject your training project.

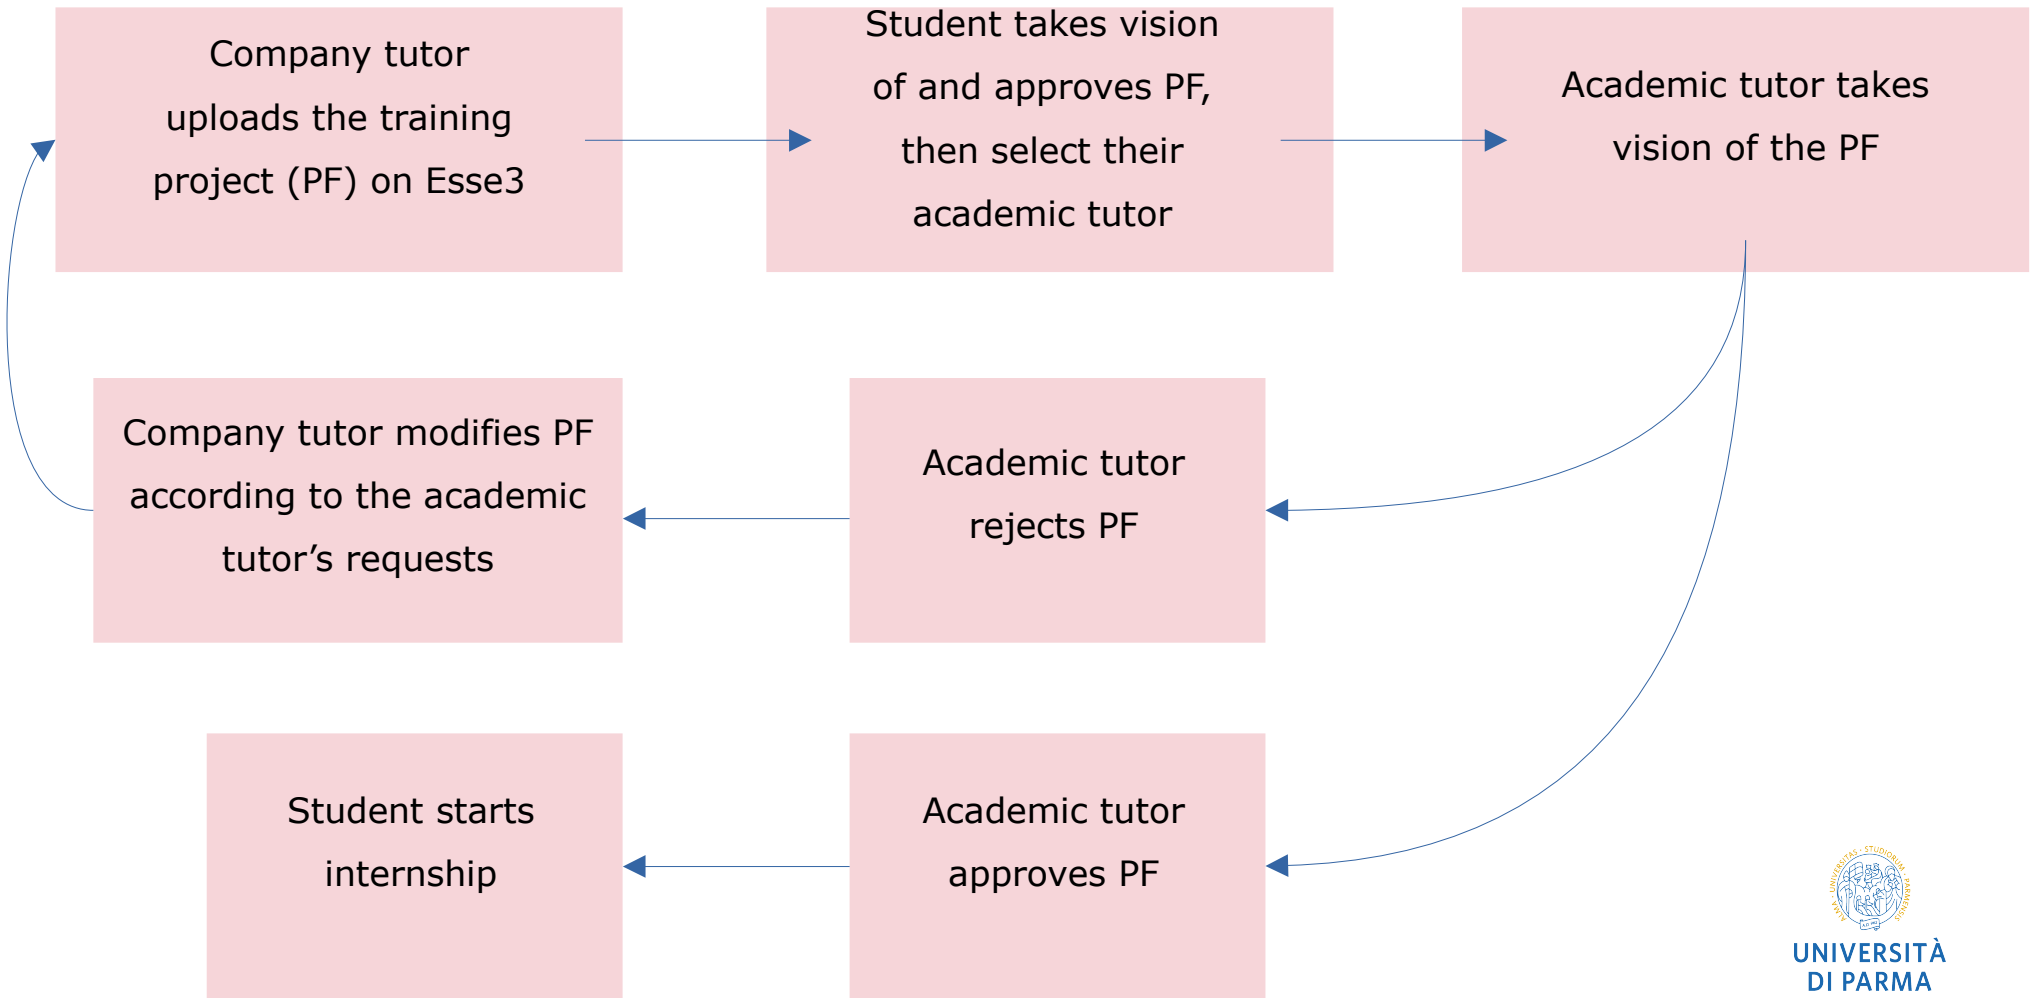

If the academic tutor rejects your training project, the company tutor must make changes to it according to the academic tutor's requests and then upload the revised copy of the training project on the Esse3 system.

If the academic tutor approves your training project, you may start your internship.

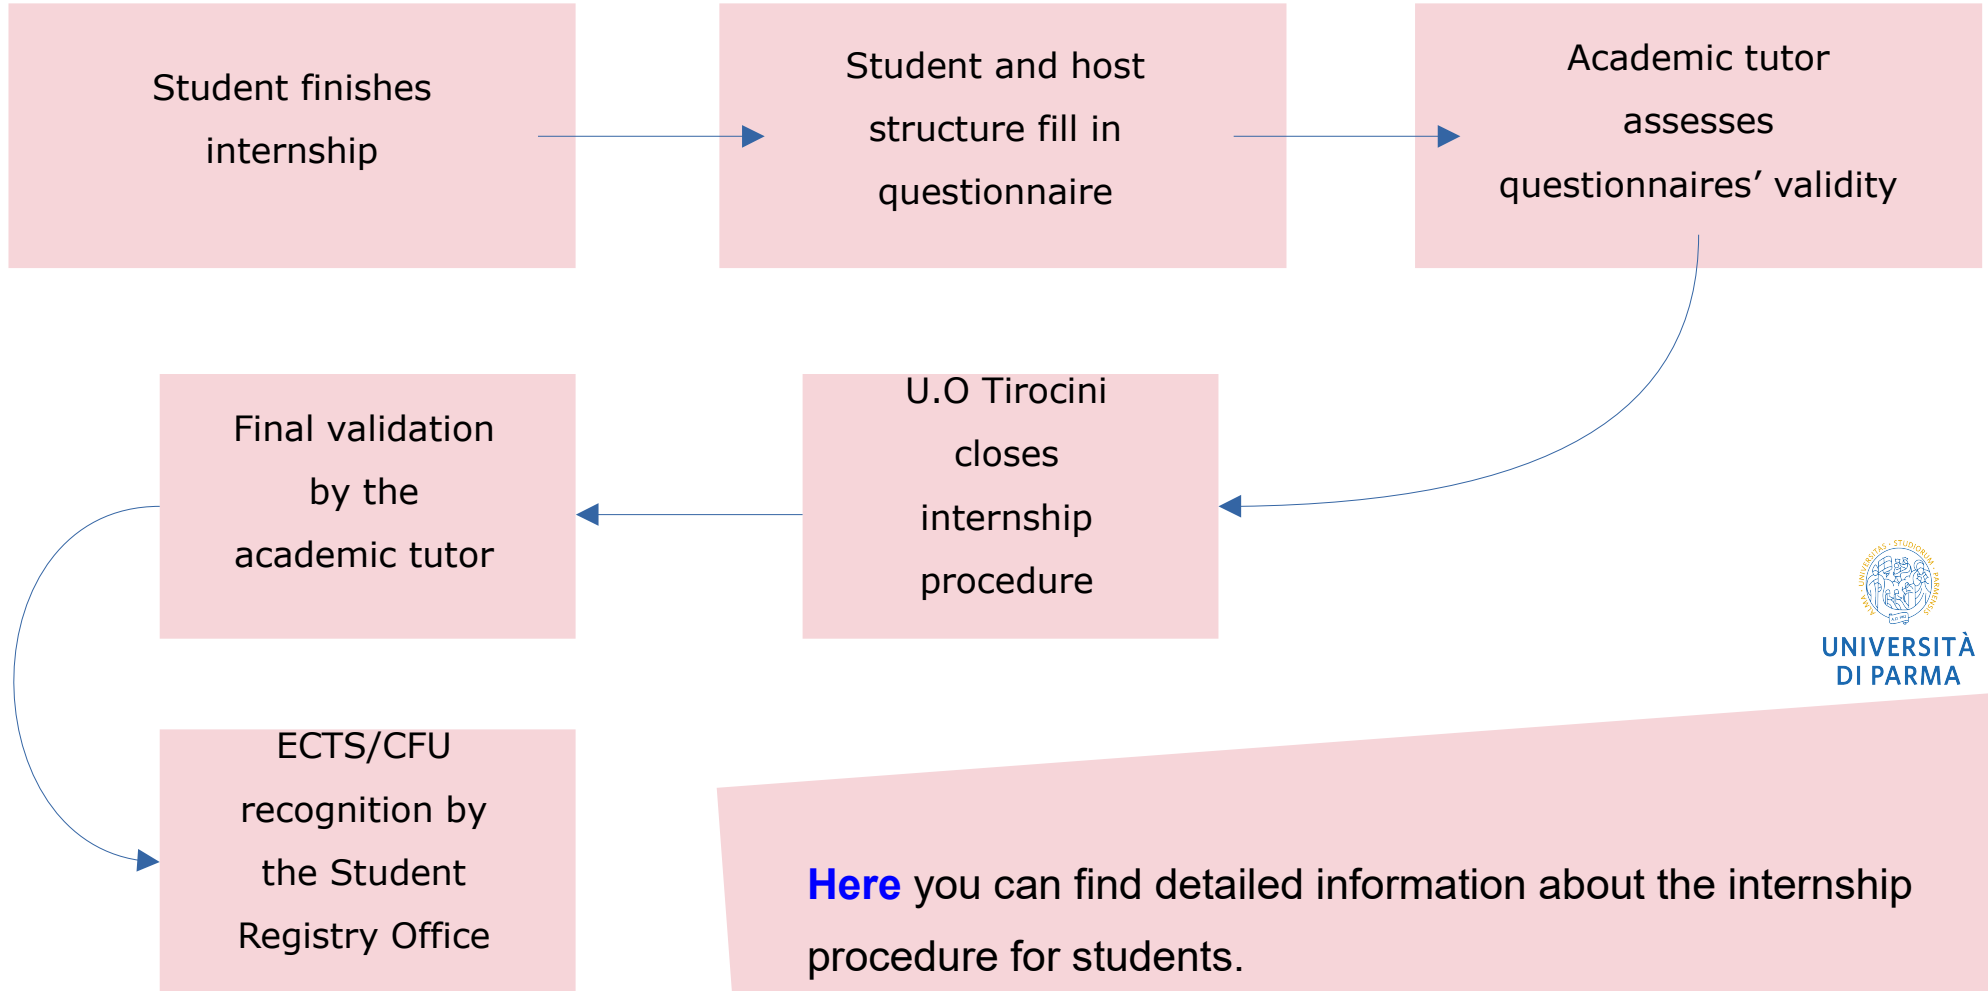

This entire procedure may take up to 15 working days.

At the end of the internship, you and the host structure must fill in a questionnaire about the internship experience. The validity of each questionnaire will be assessed by the academic tutor. The internship procedure is closed by the U.O. Tirocini at the University of Parma. Only at this point the academic tutor will validate your internship. After the final validation, the Student Registry Office will proceed with the official recognition of the ECTS credits (CFU) in your career booklet.
